THE CHINESE SITUATION

Russians and English Resting on Their Arms and Situation More Encouraging.

Boers Rejection of Terms of Peace and Troubles at Tien Tsin Very Discouraging.

MAY YET UNDO ENGLAND

The Afternoon Papers are Inclined to be Very Pessimistic Over the Final Outcome

SENSATIONAL RUMOR DISCREDITED

New York, March 20.—(Bulletin)—A Tokio bulletin says: "Russian and Japanese warships are rushing to Korean waters. Movements are very warlike."

Tien Tsin, March 20.—The situation today, after the several ominous-looking events of the week, is more encouraging. The Russians and English are resting on their arms and the prospects of a peaceful settlement of the differences are very bright.

NO FIGHTING YET.

London, March 20.—The sensational rumors of fighting between the British and Russians has not been confirmed and is discredited at the foreign offices. No trouble is expected.

PESIMISTIC LONDON.

London, March 20.—The afternoon papers are very pessimistic over Botha's rejection of peace terms and say that the trouble at Tien Tsin and the Boer war may yet prove England's undoing.

ST. LOUIS FIRE.

St. Louis, March 19.—A fire that originated in the ice house of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday, fanned by a strong wind, spread over a territory six blocks long and two wide, covered by dwellings, lumber yards and repair shops, etc., but because of the dense pall of smoke and the intense heat, which kept the firemen at a distance, it was impossible to see just how much damage the fire had done.

Up to 2:30 o'clock it was known that the following buildings have been destroyed: Ice houses of the W. J. Kemp and Anheuser-Busch breweries; lumber yard and repair shops of the Missouri Car and Foundry company; shops of the Standard Barrel company; Studebaker and Vinegar company's plant; three two-story dwellings; five scattered cottages; buildings of the United States engineering department, used for building and repairing barges for Mississippi river work; old stone arsenal, used for the storage of United States army quartermaster's supplies; Southside Hunting and Boating club and several boat houses.

Shortly after 3 o'clock the fire was under control, after having burned property estimated in value at $1,000,000, between Zipp street and Utah street on the south and north and Kocisko street on the west, to the river. The stone wall at the arsenal stopped the spread of the fire northward.

THE BENTON COURT.

The grand jury at Benton will be discharged tomorrow and although court may last another week, it is thought the cases will all be disposed of by Saturday.

Lee Walters, arrested here a few weeks ago for false swearing, has been indicted by the grand jury.

BUSINESS FAILURE.

Yorkville, N. C., March 20.—John R. Asha, who was president of the York Cotton Mills, which failed yesterday, suicided today by jumping in a well.

WAS HE ROBBED?

ENGINEER JOE DICKE'S DIAMOND RING AND STUD AND POCKETBOOK MISSING.

It is not known where Engineer Joe Dicke's diamond ring, stud and pocketbook are. They were not found on him when the remains were brought to the city. Engineer Dicke had two handsome diamonds and never carried less than $50 with him. He is said to have had at least $75 or $100 only a short time before the accident, probably at Fulton. His watch was taken possession of by the railroad authorities to learn the time of the accident and will be turned over to the family today.

His family hope the valuables were taken by a friend for safekeeping, and will be returned. His diamonds, especially his ring on his finger, could hardly have been lost.

MAYFIELD CUTTING.

ALBERT FRANCIS MAY BE FATALLY WOUNDED—OTHER NEWS

Albert Francis, was seriously, if not fatally cut at the Mayfield factory in Mayfield yesterday by a man named Rogers. The men had a dispute over pressing a pair of pants and it was thought it was settled when Rogers slipped up behind him and stabbed him across the chest.

A petition for pardon is being circulated at Mayfield for Bud Yates, who was given two years for detaining a woman.

Jim Lawrence, who was arrested for stealing from the Mayfield Woolen Mills, was yesterday indicted by the grand jury at Mayfield.

STREET CARS, TOO!

THEY STRUCK AT A CURVE ABOUT 12:30 TODAY.

Cars 50 and 61, on the Rowlandtown line, had a head-on collision at the curve at Madison and Fourth streets about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon and gave half a dozen passengers a bad scare and good jolting up.

It seemed that one of the motormen "overlooked" his orders and failed to wait at the meeting point on Utterback's switch. They did not discover each other until too late.

No one was hurt, fortunately, and the cars not damaged to amount to anything.

ILLINOIS COUPLE.

PEOPLE FROM SPRINGFIELD MARRIED THIS AFTERNOON.

W. W. Follis, aged 38, and Mrs. J. E. McFarland, aged 34, of Springfield, Ill., arrived on the St. Louis train this morning and were married this afternoon.

The groom is a farmer, and it is his first marriage. It is her second venture. It is understood they are cousins.

THE TOBACCO MARKET.

About 100 hogheads were sold at today's sales, and there is a splendid demand for all grades. The prices today were slightly advanced.

COLLEGE FUN.

Bellefonte, Pa., March 20.—W. M. Dorworth, a freshman in the state college here, was killed in a fierce class fight today.

Budaapest, March 20.—Field Marshal, Decenty Zorogy was fired at on the streets today by discharged soldiers.

MADISONVILLE'S NARROW ESCAPE

Fire Last Night Made Things Look Dangerous for the Town at One Time.

Every Citizen Was Called on to Help Fight the Blaze and Persistency Won.

POPULATION OUT EN MASSE

The Situation Was So Threatening It Was Deemed Necessary to Call on Neighboring Towns.

THE LIST OF DAMAGED PROPERTY

Madisonville, Ky., March 20.—This city has escaped what appeared at one time last night, a destruction of the place. At 7 o'clock a fire was discovered in the Les Williams tobacco factory occupied by Budke and Lancaster, and the fire communicated to adjacent buildings, being fanned by a fierce March wind; at that time the outlook for Madisonville was discouraging in the extreme. The wind blew directly in the direction of the business center. So threatening was the situation it was deemed best to call for help from neighboring cities. Our department was prompt, but was inadequate for handling such a fire. The Williams factory was soon consumed, and one after another adjoining buildings fell before the ruthless flames. The population turned out en masse, and every able-bodied citizen was willing to contribute in any possible way to the saving of exposed property. Nobly did the men of the department do the work before them, but such a fire the most persistent labor of a well trained department supplied with all the necessary appliances could only have stemmed the tide. Most fortunately a short time after the breaking out of the fire, the wind changed its course in an opposite direction, and by this more than anything else, was the city saved from destruction. Buildings destroyed were: Barnes' Cooperage shop, Coleman's cooper shop, Exchange Hotel, Holman's tobacco factory, J. H. Young's residence and warehouse, W. J. Barnes' livery stable, a two story brick residence occupied by negroes, W. B. Smith's residence and warehouse and others. Loss about $40,000, partially insured.

ZENDA CLUB'S DANCE.

The Zenda club's dance at the K. of P. hall last night was very enjoyable, and the following were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. James Foster, Misses Luna Lemon, Myrtle Bryant, Carrie Grace, May V. Patterson, Byrdie Gilbert, Anne Street, Messrs. Harry Fisher, Chas. Fisher, Chas. Sagers, Will Epstein, Alvin Barclay, Edwin Thompson, Harry Swain, Roscoe Paryear, Leon Gleaves, Burke Jenkins, Parker Chastaine and E. B. Jones.

DEAN'S BAND NOT AN APPLICANT.

There was talk of Dean's band acting as regimental band for the approaching encampment of state guards, and Prof. Dean was asked to make a bid on furnishing the music. Since then, however, it has been announced that the regimental band must have a drum major, and Dean's band never had one, this lets the band out of the contest.

DEATH IN MARSHALL

AN AGED RESIDENT SUCCEUMS TO OLD AGE TODAY.

Mr. Campbell Parker, aged 91, died today from old age at his home near Benton, Ky. He was one of the best known residents of Marshall county. His wife died about 10 years ago, but he leaves several children, as follows: Sid Parker, Fulton; Mrs. F. A. Higgins, Marshall county; Dr. Geo. Parker, Arkansas; Mr. John Parker, Texas; W. F. Parker, West.

WILL RESUME.

MAYFIELD WOOLEN MILLS LOUISVILLE PLANT.

Louisville, March 20.—The Old Kentucky Woolen Mill will resume operations in about three weeks, giving employment to about 350 operatives, who were thrown out of employment when the mill shut down two years ago. The mill has just been purchased by the Mayfield Woolen Mills, of Mayfield, Ky., from Mr. G. W. Tarleton, of Louisville, who bought the mill at auction on February 12.

Mrs. C. G. Warner is quite ill from malarial fever.

POISON BY MISTAKE.

CLOSE CALL OF MRS. GRASTY, WHO TOOK ARSENIC, YESTERDAY.

Mrs. Grasty, the venerable mother of the Messrs. Grasty, the grocers, made a mistake yesterday morning at her home on Jefferson, between Fourth and Fifth, which nearly cost her her life. She poured out a dose of what she supposed was paragon, and in swallowing it discovered a peculiarity in taste which prompted her to more closely examine the bottle. She found that the liquid was a strong solution of arsenic.

Dr. Alvey was hastily summoned, and by the use of the stomach pump saved her life. She soon recovered, but it was a close call.

SYMSONIA NOTES.

Symsonia, March 20.—Mr. W. P. Edmunds had his arm broken last Sunday by falling from a mule.

BOOTLEGGERS CASE CONTINUED.

Bud Blanton and Walter Lee, of Hickman, Ky., arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Saunders for selling whisky without a government license, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Puryear today, but all the witnesses not having arrived, it was continued indefinitely.

GRATEFUL TRAMP.

STOLE A COAT AND IT WAS MADE A PRESENT TO HIM.

Judge Sanders Makes the Presentation Speech—One Other Petty Larceny Case.

Paul Cronenthal, a rather nice-looking tramp who said his home was in Philadelphia, was arrested last night for stealing an overcoat from a West End home.

He took the coat after receiving hospitality at the house. The owner, however, did not desire to prosecute. The prisoner informed the court this morning that he was cold and without money, and seeing the coat concluded he needed it worse than the owner and confiscated it.

Judge Sanders received word from the owner during court to please present the coat, which was quite a good one, to the tramp, and tell him it was hoped he would derive comfort from it.

The judge handed the coat over to the prisoner, made the presentation speech, and told him to go and sin no more.

The unfortunate fellow accepted it with good grace and walked out a free man.

The only other case on the docket was against Winston Bonds, colored, charged with stealing a bridle. There was no evidence against him and he was acquitted, claiming that he found the bridle.

The Dispatch at Louisville, After Much Staggering Suspends Publication Today.

LIABILITIES ARE $75,000

Morehead Ky. Has a Fire Last Night That Came Near Destroying the Whole Town.

ENGLISH STEAMER GOES DOWN AT SEA

Louisville, March 21.—The Daily Dispatch suspended publication today. The liabilities of the company are seventy-five thousand dollars with assets of thirty thousand. The Dispatch has been in bad shape financially for some time and the failure comes as no surprise. The paper was started several years ago as an organ for the silver wing of the Democratic party and to offset the Haldeman papers. For the past few years however it had been out of line with the majority of its party.

ANOTHER BAD FIRE.

Morehead, Ky., March 21.—The entire town of Morehead was threatened with destruction for two hours last night by fire, but after hard work the blaze was gotten under control. The damage was three stores, two offices, one residence, and a barber shop burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at fifteen thousand dollars.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT SEA.

Antwerp, March 21.—Reports just in that the English steamer Tye was sunk in a collision today and fifteen of the crew lost their lives. Full reports are not yet in.

Miss Ellen N. is quite sprightly in her old days.

A LEADER AMONG MEN

Our new Spring Derby takes the very first rank among stylish hats for men: Its shape, its adaptability to the shape of the head, its lightness, its elegance of finish and the fact that it is "solid dyed"—color doesn't come off on your hands—make it an ideal hat for spring and summer wear. For these who prefer other shapes to the derby, we are in line with the latest and best.

EFFORTS MADE TO "HOLD UP" THE METROPOLIS HERALD.

The Metropolis Herald force is greatly perturbed over an anonymous communication, saying that if $1,000 in a sack isn't left at Fort Massac for the writers, the office will be blown up with dynamite at 8 o'clock tonight.

The "Two Strangers" signed to it give as an excuse that they don't like what the paper has been saying. It will be known tonight whether the letter is a joke or the product of some crank. It made a good item for the Herald, at any rate.

LITERARY NOTES.

"The Moon Maiden" and "The Carlo Dealer" are new pieces by Richard Carle.

"The Country Judge," a new pastoral play by Alice E. Ives and Jerome Eddy, will be produced in New York next March.

Friends of Robert Buchanan have formed a committee for the purpose of raising a fund for the maintenance of the author, who is no longer able to work.

"Richard Mansfield's Acting Edition of Shakespeare's King Henry V." will soon be published. It is understood that Mr. Mansfield's arrangement of the play is based chiefly upon Rolfe's edition of Shakespeare.

Dr. Winthrop Ellisworth Stone, president of Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., is only 38 years old. Prior to his selection as president he had been vice president for eight years. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Agricultural college and took a post-graduate course at Gottingen.

Among books a tale recently written by Edward Perry Warren is called "The Prince Who Did Not Exist." It concerns a prince in a fairy book who was in the most doleful straits because he had fallen in love with a real young lady who was not in the book, whereby she was prevented from expressing even a sisterly interest in him.

Longest Third-Rail Road.
Heavy cars, each holding sixty passengers, tra eld easily thirty-seven miles in one hour over the Albany & Hudson Electric railway, at the formal opening recently. The road is interesting in that it is the longest "third rail" road in the world, and, although an experiment, it seems to be a perfect success.

BROOKLYN.

NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBOR
ACROSS THE WAY.

Brooklyn, March 15.—The board of education announces that there will be no change of teachers the coming season. This is received as glad tidings by the citizens of this place, as the schools of all are the one thing of which every man, woman and child, seems proud and cannot speak in too high terms. It was hard to find a child, at the close of school, that did not seem they had lost their best friend, and none was sure he could reconcile himself outside.
However, it may not be generally known that Prof. Whittenberry, in the commencement outlined a three year course for the Brooklyn high school, and the ten week summer normal school term will be kept on the same lines.

Considerable interest is being taken in the approaching spring election for president and trustees, etc., and on account of the question of appointing the marshal instead of electing one.

The village board has been considering the proposition of purchasing a fire engine and organizing a fire company. With such equipment there will be no safer place in the United States to live or do business. You can sleep with your doors open and the wood in the alley and wake up as rich in the morning as when you retired.

Aunt Georgia McGhee, a pioneer resident of Brooklyn, is very ill.

Theophilus Russell and Mack Corn started for White river country in Arkansas today to engage in the timber business.

Carnegie, the great iron king, had and has aspirations to be an editor.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

MRS. MARY E. SNIPES OR-DERED TO THE HOPKINS-VILLE ASYLUM.

Mrs. Mary E. Snipes, aged 48, was tried before County Judge Tully this morning in the county court on a charge of lunacy and adjudged of unsound mind, and ordered to the Hopkinsville asylum. Mr. Miles Futrell was deputed to take her.

She is a widow, and went crazy about ten years ago when her husband ran away with another woman from the city. She was released about four years ago and has now become insane again, and at times cannot be controlled.

The following poem was written by a charming Paducah maiden, not by any means an old maid, and was published in the Benton Tribune:

AN OLD BACHELOR'S DREAMS.

Dedicated to the bachelor of the Benton Seminary.

A beaming smile, a countenance bright,
With a wealth of hair as black as night.

Two rows of teeth as white as pearls,
Lips like a rose leaf, which slightly curls.

A face more fair than the lilies that grow, Oft times reflected by red poppies, I know.

Eyes that were windows of a soul so pure,
Were framed in silk lashes which curled back, I'm sure.

A brow broad and white, too plain must be seen
The throne of intellect which, indeed, must be keen.

Her voice was like music which floats
on the air
Of a balmy summer midnight, when all nature's fair.

Notes clear as a nightingale, yet soft
as a dove,
Divine as an angels wafted down
from above.

I saw she was perfect and fell at her feet;
Implored her to wed me, my life make complete.

She gazed in compassion on my pleadings so vain,
And in her dark eyes was written "refusal" too plain.

Then, in one short moment, I realized
the truth;
My "ideal" I had found of my long perished youth.

Could I, who was sought for, be rejected at last!
Who had flirted and flirted a score of times past.

Mothers had blushed when their hands I would take,
I stretched forth my arms in passionate appeal:

"I beg you, fair maiden, life's paradise to seal."

My eyes grew dim, a phantom she seemed,
A mere vision of bright colors like I often had dreamed.

I clutched at her wildly: "Pray stay yet awhile;
Love, oh! love of my heart, life's darkness beguile;

"Be queen of my bow, my own darling wife,
Be an angel to guide me through earth's cares and strife."

A face full of laughter now upward was turned,
And waved an adieu—my proposal was spurned.

Like a fairy she glided, quick out of my sight,
And leaping after her rashly I awoke
with fright:

"Twas a bright golden dream of my ideal love,
Who stole to me gently in my dreams
from above.

Like Luna's faithless rays she's left me here to weep, Praying but again to see her vision in my sleep.

As all the world may plainly see.
A man finds solace in a good cigar
And woman in a cup of tea.

HOW FINE DAYS COME ON.

Oh, what an aerobist is jayous spring!
A rush, a murmur, and she's in the ring.

March is made of many moods:
One day flirting with the duds,

SUNSHINE-MOONSHINE.

A most little speech was gotten off at a banquet held here recently. The banquet was not at strictly temperance, however, and there were several incidents that would have roused Mrs.
Nation to righteous anger. There were a number of young fellows present, and unfortunately before the toasts were made some of those who were not in a condition to behave decorously. In fact, several speechmakers were interrupted by a song from the inmates to the effect "Let a little sunshine in."

At last one man responded to a toast and commenced: "I would suggest to my young friends who are in favor of letting in a little sunshine not to let in a little moonshine at the same time."—Louisville-Commercial.

ON THE FRINGE LINE.

A Chicago merchant of experience places more stress on the constancy of the advertiser than on the striking character of the advertisement. He declares that "the ad" that is always on the fringe line, through thick and thin, in season and out of season, is the "ad" that will win its share in the division of trade. The "ad" that is run at intervals must enter the lists each time as a new competitor."—

GRAND LODGE.

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE TO ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF THE GOLDEN CROSS.

Hope and Banner commanderies, Golden Cross, held a joint meeting last night in Campbell building to arrange for the grand lodge meeting here on April 11th. Seventy-five delegates are expected and the lodge will be in session but one day.

The executive committee to make the necessary arrangements and appoint sub-committees is as follows: C.
B. Hatfield, J. L. Powell, J. H. Burnett, J. Henry Weimer, W. N. Warren, Chas. Hart and Al Young.

The committee will meet with the Mechanicsburg commandery Monday night, and members of it will be selected to serve on the committee.

New officers will be elected by the grand lodge, which is to hold its meeting in Campbell building, and they will be installed in the evening by Supreme Commander F. I. Day, of the supreme lodge of the United States, who will be in attendance. Besides the supreme commander several other distinguished guests will be present, including Supreme Keeper of Records W. R. Cooper of Knoxville, Tenn.; Supreme Medical Director John D. Young, of Boston, and Supreme Treasurer John D. Swain, of Nassau,
New Hampshire.

After the installation a big banquet will be served in the lodge and anteroom.

GENEROUS LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, March 15.—Louisville's response to the appeal of stricken Cloverport has been immediate. Within four hours after the time the first news of the unfortunate state of affairs had been received a relief train was on the way to the scene bearing supplies.

Judge Sanders Makes the Presentation
Speech—One Other Petty Larceny Case.

Paul Cronenthal, a rather nice-looking tramp who said his home was in Philadelphia, was arrested last night for stealing an overcoat from a West End home.

He took the coat after receiving hospitality at the house. The owner, however, did not desire to prosecute.
The prisoner informed the court this morning that he was cold and without money, and seeing the coat concluded he needed it worse than the owner and confiscated it.

Judge Sanders received word from the owner during court to please present the coat, which was quite a good one, to the tramp, and tell him it was hoped he would derive comfort from it.

The judge handed the coat over to the prisoner, made him the presentation speech, and told him to go and sin no more.

The unfortunate fellow accepted it with good grace and walked out a free man.

The only other case on the docket was against Winston Bonds, colored, charged with stealing a bride. There was no evidence against him and he was acquitted, claiming that he found the bride.

Morehead Ky. Has a Fire Last Night
That Came Near Destroying the Whole Town.

ENGLISH STEAMER GOES DOWN AT SEA

Louisville, March 21.—The Daily Dispatch suspended publication today.
The liabilities of the company are seventy-five thousand dollars with assets of thirty thousand. The Dispatch has been in bad shape financially for some time and the failure comes as no surprise. The paper was started several years ago as an organ for the silver wing of the Democratic party and to offset the Haldeman papers.
For the past few years however it had been out of line with the majority of its party.

ANOTHER BAD FIRE.

Morehead, Ky., March 21.—The entire town of Morehead was threatened with destruction for two hours last night by fire, but after hard work
the blaze was gotten under control.
The damage was three stores, two offices, one residence, and a barber shop burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at fifteen thousand dollars.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT SEA.

Antwerp, March 21.—Reports just in that the English steamer Tye was sunk in a collision today and fifteen of the crew lost their lives. Full reports are not yet in.

From Friday's Sun.

Mr. A. G. Budde, Sr., aged 74 one of Paducah's oldest citizens died at 3:30 o'clock this morning at his home on South Fourth street from asthma, after a long illness.

The deceased was born in Germany, and had been a resident of Paducah for forty years or more. He was a worthy citizen, highly respected by all who knew him, and leaves two children to mourn his loss, Mr. A.
Budde, Jr., and Mrs. Frank Rodfus.
The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon burial at Oak Grove.

Mr. John Rehkopf, accompanied by Dr. Amoss and nurse, was taken to Louisville at 1:30 this morning to undergo a fourth operation. Prof.
Coons will perform it. Mr. E. Reh-kopf, his father, went up yesterday to make arrangements. Mr. Rehkopf has had several attacks of appendicitis.

right arm bruised, and sustained internal injuries. Jordan Taylor, a colored brakeman, suffered a dislocation of his right shoulder. Both were removed to Fort Jefferson for medical attention. Engine 608 was thrown crosswise of the track by the sideswipe. Twelve cars loaded with freight were totally demolished. The loss will reach thousands of dollars.

The contract for the new opera

MARSHAL SUED IN TRIGG.

Cadiz, March 15.—Attorney Robert Crenshaw has filed suit in the Trigg circuit court for Ben Weathers, colored, against City Marshal Howard Dillard, of Gracery, for $500 damages.
Weathers lives near Caledonia, and states in his petition that in February last Dillard, acting as city marshal of Gracery, came into Trigg county without authority of law and arrested him and brought him to Cadiz, where he was placed in jail with felons and other prisoners; that Dillard refused to permit him to give bond, and for said unlawful arrest and imprisonment on the part of Dillard and the humiliation and remorse to plaintiff, damage to the amount stated is asked.

FOR ATTEMPTED

ASSASSINATION.

Cadiz, March 15.—W. M. Ethridge will be tried here tomorrow for the attempted assassination of Joe Ballard, a well known farmer residing near here, Monday. He was fired at from behind a hay stack, and a load of buckshot struck his right arm, so mangleing it that amputation was necessary. An old grudge over family affairs is the supposed cause of the attempt to take Ballard's life.

BROADWAY

CARNEGIE AGAIN

New York, March 16.—Andrew Carnegie, who, since retiring from active business has been able to devote his time to the founding of libraries, has made to New York City the largest offer of that kind on record. If New York will provide the sites and the maintenance he has promised to give $5,000,000 to establish 65 branch libraries in this city.

The offer was made in a letter to Dr. John S. Billings, director of the New York public library, and was made public tonight.

Mr. Carnegie's offer to provide library buildings for Greater New York at a cost of over $5,000,000 is made with the usual conditions. If accepted, it will result in the greatest free public library system in the world.

Pittsburg, March 16.—Intimate friends of Andrew Carnegie say that it is the intention of the steel master to give at least $25,000,000 for the erection of buildings and for the endowment of the proposed technical school of Pittsburg. It is also declared by those who have talked with Mr. Carnegie that he intends to make his school the finest of its kind in the world, and that it will lead as much fame to Pittsburg on the theoretical side of iron and steel making as his famous works have done in actual practice.

St. Louis, March 16.—Andrew Carnegie has offered to donate $1,000,000 for the building of a new public library in St. Louis, subject to the usual maintenance and site conditions.

A NICE PROMOTION.

MR. ED HOOKS GOES TO HOPKINSVILLE TO TAKE THE AGENCY OF THE AMERICAN.

Mr. Ed Hooks, a well known Paducah boy who has been a messenger for the American Express company on the St. Louis division of the Illinois Central for the past year or two, left at noon today for Hopkinsville, where he takes the agency for the American Express company, succeeding Agent Hugh Bradley, who is transferred to Hammond, La.

Mr. Hooks' run has been given to Mr. Geo. T. Houck.

Mr. Hooks has been in the employ of the express company for a number of years, and is a popular, efficient employee, whose many friends will be pleased to learn of his recognition his excellent services have won, and wish him success in his new position.

MR. OSCAR STARKS' FATHER DIES.

Mr. Oscar Starks, of E. Rebley & Sons, was called to Hamilton, Mass., today by the death of his father, Mr. Oscar Starks, aged 80, who died from old age and pneumonia. The deceased leaves several children. The youngest child, Tom, died a few days ago.

BUSINESS WORLD

From Saturday's Daily.

The weather of the past week has been a trade killer for the retail merchant, and comparatively nothing was done. There is a good deal of work for the houses, though as spring goods are not all in and are arriving daily and the work of getting them in shape has occupied the attention of most clerks the past few weeks. A day or two of balmy spring, weather and the retail men will have all they can attend to. There is more than one lamenting the early advent of Easter.

With the wholesale houses trade continues good. Of course now and then some man makes a complaint but he is the exception to the general rule hereabouts. Collections are fair.

Business for the life insurance men seems to be good at present. One agency reports having written over $20,000 the past week.

Work on the new theater, the pants factory of the Forked Deer Co., and the plant for Weills is progressing rapidly. The indications are for a good deal of building this spring. The real estate men report trading very active in the realty line, and much in prospect for the future.

Col. John Van Cullin, now of St. Louis, is in the city today greeting his old friends. Col. John found Paducah too small to stand the reputation of his famous Tropical fruit chewing gum was attaining and was compelled to seek a larger town, one that would not be unbalanced by the reputation that his delightful product is bound to have some day.

The manufacturing concerns are very busy filling orders at present and all seem to be satisfied with the conditions of trade. There is not one among the constantly increasing number that is not enjoying splendid business, and that has not the brightest prospects for the immediate future. Expansion is, without doubt, the slogan.

The recapitulation of the assessor's books for 1901-1902 was completed today, after some delay. The total assessed valuation of the property in McCracken county is $88,099,133.

Business at the banks the past week has been fairly active, and counter business good. Money to move to bank is in great demand, and will continue so, now, for several months. A good deal of the money required by the Mayfield people to move the cotton each year is supplied from the Paducah banks and it makes currency a little scarce.

Closings for the week were $500, 567.00.

The Miller-Kelley mills is under good leadership now and the managers expect themselves to every well pleased with things so far, and especially with the kind of work they have found.

TOBACCO.

The receipts of the tobacco this week showed no change over last week. The tobacco men were just a shade easier. Speculations on the market were few, though they were somewhat disposed of.

Isaac Miller reports for the week etc. as follows:

Receipts for week: 212 hogheads. Receipts for year: 150 hogheads. Of this for week: 94 hogheads. Receipts for year: 120 hogheads. Private sales for week: 27 hogheads. Sales for year: 89 hogheads. Sales for year: 637 hogheads.

DIED IN TENNESSEE.

Mrs. M. J. Yates, of Fulton, died at P. M. T. where she was visiting. There was no burial in Fulton.

—A list of the officers who are to preside at the Democratic county primary is being made out.

BONI SCORES

Paris, March 16.—In the duel between Count Boni Castellane, Anna Gould's spendthrift husband, and M. De Rodays, the editor of the daily Figaro today the latter was seriously wounded in the thigh. The fight grew out of the count's slapping the editor's face for an article in his paper. Both men are famous duellists, and have had many affairs like the one of today.

AGUINALDO'S ARREST.

Washington, March 16.—General MacArthur reports today the surrender of Trias and all of his staff, this week. Trias was the last general of the insurrection and there is much rejoicing in army circles as the officials take this as an indication that the end of the rebellion is near.

RAILROAD FLAGMEN.

GUARDIANS OF STREET CROSSINGS ARE BECOMING TOO NEGLIGENT.

There have been two smash-ups at railroad crossings in the city within the past few days, which emphasized the fact that more care should be exacted from flagmen at the crossings. A few weeks ago a buggy was stuck at Jefferson street and the railroad, and the flagman is said to have been inside his "shanty" eating dinner, leaving people to dodge the trains as best they could. The last two accidents occurred at the same crossing, with the same flagman.

The N. C. & St. L. flagman at Eleventh street near Caldwell street ever gets out to flag a train. He stands on the platform in front of his house most of the time, often playing his duties as flagman to a woman, who is said to be a well-to-do society lady, who has been called to his attention.

It will be only a matter of time until some one is killed at these crossings unless some of the flagmen are made to be more careful.

PROPERTY VALUATION.

The following is a recapitulation of the total assessed valuation for 1901-1902 just completed at the county court house after a several weeks' delay. It shows quite an increase over last year's total assessed valuation.

The total assessed valuation of all property in McCracken county is $88,099,133.

The separate valuations are as follows:

Number of acres of land owned by white people: 1,66,574; colored, 2,974. Value of same, white, $1,569,650; colored, $32,300. Number of town lots, white, 4,474; colored, 432. Value, white, $4,912,787; colored, $103,532. Number of thoroughbred stallions, one; value, $100. Number of gelding, one; value, $20. Number of standard mares and colts, 8; value, $30. Number of stallions, common stock, 9; value, $600. Number of geldings, mares and colts, etc., common stock, 1,949; value, $65,552. Number of mares and male colts, 100; value, $12,720. Number of jacks, 20; value, $1180; jennets, 13; value, $240. Thoroughbred bolls, 1; value, $12. Thoroughbred standard cows and calves, 12; value, $255. Number of common stock, 2,336; value, $28,760. Number of sheep, 419; value, $801. Number of hogs, 2,937; value, $9,297. Value of vehicles of various kinds, $33,103. Value of safes, $2,035. Value of household and kitchen furniture, $53,716. Value of manufacturing implements of all kind, $33,810. Pianos and other instruments, $7,300. Value of watches and clocks, $1,700. Value of steam engines and boilers, $6,750. Value of schooners, $7,150. Value of stocks of goods, $10,000. Value of all property not mentioned above, $10,000. Value of land owned by col. $1,000,000. Value of town lots, $4,912,787. Assessed value of personal property, $1,473,715. Amount of expenditures, $37,616. Total value of all property assessed in McCracken county, $88,099,133. Last year's assessment was $7,500,000, and this year there is an increase of $799,233. This year's assessment is the best in the history of Paducah. The value of polls is $2,007 white and 1,097 colored.

STOLE A COAT AND IT WAS MADE A PRESENT TO HIM.

Judge Sanders Makes the Presentation Speech—One Other Petty Larceny Case.

Paul Cronenthal, a rather nice-looking tramp who said his home was in Philadelphia, was arrested last night for stealing an overcoat from a West End home.

He took the coat after receiving hospitality at the home. The owner, however, did not desire to prosecute. The prisoner informed the court this morning that he was cold and without money, and seeing the coat concluded he needed it worse than the owner and confiscated it.

Judge Sanders received word from the owner during court to please present the coat, which was quite a good one, to the tramp, and tell him it was hoped he would derive comfort from it.

The judge handed the coat over to the prisoner, made the presentation speech, and told him to go and sin no more. The unfortunate fellow accepted it with good grace and walked out a free man.

The only other case on the docket was against Winston Bonds, colored, charged with stealing a bridge. There was no evidence against him and he was acquitted, claiming that he found the bridge.

Morehead Ky. Has a Fire Last Night That Came Near Destroying the Whole Town.

ENGLISH STEAMER GOES DOWN AT SEA

Louisville, March 21.—The Daily Dispatch suspended publication today. The liabilities of the company are twenty-five thousand dollars with assets of thirty thousand. The Dispatch has been in bad shape financially for some time and the failure comes as no surprise. The paper was started several years ago as an organ for the silver wing of the Democratic party and to offset the Haldeman papers. For the past few years however it had been out of line with the majority of its party.

ANOTHER BAD FIRE.

Morehead, Ky., March 21.—The entire town of Morehead was threatened with destruction for two hours last night by fire, but after hard work the blaze was gotten under control. The damage was three stores, two offices, one residence, and a barber shop burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at fifteen thousand dollars.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT SEA.

Antwerp, March 21.—Reports just in that the English steamer Tye was sunk in a collision today and fifteen of the crew lost their lives. Full reports are not yet in.

FROM NEW YORK.

To The Sun:
New York, March 10.—We arrived in this city, the greatest of all American cities, Thursday after a pleasant stay of two days in Philadelphia. The most inspiring and the most interesting spot in Philadelphia is Liberty Hall. We visited it on Wednesday. Harold and Rob took especial interest in the old bell that proclaimed liberty to "all the land and all the inhabitants thereof." It is held in high esteem and a policeman guards it night and day. The hall where the continental congress was assembled with its furnishings is very interesting; the chair in which the Hon. John Hancock sat, and the table on which the Declaration of Independence lay when signed, are there in the same place they were on that ever-to-be-remembered day; many of the chairs in which the delegates sat are there, as are the pictures of all the members of that honorable body. Across the hall is the room in which the first supreme court was held presided over by the greatest of all jurists, Hon. John Marshall. Up the stairs you see one of the original paintings of Washington by Rembrandt Peal, the greatest portrait painter of any age. On second floor of the building is the banquet hall, where many celebrated events took place, notably the final celebration of the treaty of peace.

We next visited the Flag house and viewed the room in which "Betsy" Ross made the first flag. It is an old dilapidated building. The room is kept intact as it was in the stormy days of the revolution when the flag was made. There is a patriotic move on foot to raise funds to purchase this house and convert it into a memorial museum. It was a pleasure to note that some Paducah patriot has secured thirty names at 10c each, thereby becoming owner of a first flag picture, and enrolling that many Paducah's upon the "Roll of Honor." The question naturally arises who is this Paducah patriot?

We next visited the grave of Hon. Robert Morris, the "Financier of the Revolution," who gave all his thousands for the cause and died penniless. Returning we passed the cemetery in the very heart of the city, and noticed the grave of another distinguished American, Benjamin Franklin. We visited the mint next and saw them coining money, a very interesting sight to the boys. It is interesting to know that $13,000 of silver and gold was picked out of the sweepings last year. The working of this institution is so well arranged and managed that notwithstanding hundreds of thousands of dollars are handled yearly the loss is comparatively nothing. All the small coins used are coined at this mint.

Another place of great interest is the city hall. This building is unquestionably the finest municipal building in this country; the tower is surmounted by a statue of William Penn, the top of his head being 500 feet from the ground. It has cost millions of money and is still incomplete.

The place that interested the boys second only to Liberty hall was Girard college. The arguments and buildings were decorated by Stephen Girard, one of the greatest, if not the greatest philanthropist this country has ever known. He was conceded to be worth $8,000,000 at his death. It consisted of lands that have been increasing in value all this time, one tract of 41,000 acres was in Philadelphia. The present income keeps the institution running and produces a surplus of over $500,000 yearly. The will making the bequest stipulates that no minister of any church shall ever pass through the gates, so great was his desire that the institution should be non-sectarian. It also says that any orphan male child, native of Pennsylvania, under ten shall have a right to enter the college, being clothed, educated and taught a trade or profession of his own choice, free of any cost. It is certainly a grand bequest; one that is continuous, with prospects of being self-sustaining and continuing indefinitely.

The superintendent detailed a bright little fellow out of the carpenter shop to show us around. He took us through the different departments of little mechanics, each dressed in overalls, hovering over his bench, forge, or moulding table and diligently applying himself. There were electricians, plumbers, machinists, carpenters, moulders, blacksmiths, draughtsmen, architect, lawyers, doctors; in fact every trade and profession. There are sixteen hundred boys at the college now. Think of the good this institution has done, is doing and will do, and you will agree in saying that Stephen Girard was the greatest of the many philanthropists to the present day.

The main building is a model of masonry; it does not contain a single nail, although one of the largest buildings. Philadelphia well deserves the title "City of Brotherly Love." Her people are courteous, polite and very considerate of the stranger within its gates, although one of the largest cities of the country, it has the hospitable attributes of a small country town.

We reached New York Thursday at 3:30. It is the same bustling, bustling, restless city I left last July; but once becoming familiar with New York you always feel at home, not understanding that you hail from a country village. We have visited Grant's tomb, Liberty Statue, stock exchange, Central park, Brooklyn, Coney Island, walked over Brooklyn bridge at night and viewed one of the prettiest sights in America all of which was greatly enjoyed.

The Hon. W. J. Bryan is here in the interest of his paper. He is one of the small potatoes now; does not attract any special notice. By the way his paper, the Commoner, is generally conceded to be the greatest fizzle in newspaperdom. It is a regular farce, below the average country weekly—a great disappointment.

We leave for Washington Wednesday. Very Respectfully,
F. M. F.

GEN'L HARRISON.

The death of Benjamin Harrison removes not only an honorable ex-president, but a distinguished soldier, a brilliant statesman, a lawyer of rare ability and a loyal and patriotic citizen. Though most successful in the political field, he was not a politician in the common meaning of the word; his political honors came to him more as a recognition of the confidence and esteem in which he was held by the people of his state rather than as the result of exertions on his part.

Benjamin Harrison, the twenty-third president of the United States, was born August 20, 1833, in North Bend, Indiana. His father, John Scott Harrison was a prominent Democrat and was twice elected to congress from the Cincinnati, O. district. His grandfather, William Henry Harrison, was the ninth president of the United States. His great-grandfather, Benjamin Harrison, of Virginia, was a member of the continental congress; a signer of the Declaration of Independence and was three times elected governor of Virginia. Even further back the Harrisons were influential citizens and prominent in colonial affairs. Such an honored ancestry is a heritage that no American citizen can boast of, save perhaps the Adames, of Massachusetts.

At the age of 14 Benjamin Harrison left the farm and attended Farmers College, of Cincinnati, and graduated from Miami University, Oxford, O., in 1852. He then entered the office of Judge Bellamy Storer, of Cincinnati, and two years later went to Indianapolis where he opened a law office and where he made his home until the day of his death. Harrison soon became one of the most successful and best known young lawyers in the state and in 1860 was elected reporter of the supreme court, being elected as a Republican and on the state ticket.

Two years later, however, he raised a company of volunteers and was commissioned colonel of the Seventy-third Indiana volunteers and in August of that year his regiment was sent to the front. Harrison's rise in the army was as rapid as his brilliant as in his professional career. At the battle of Resaca, May 1864, the Seventy-third regiment led the brigade in a gallant charge and its colonel greatly distinguished himself. In July of the same year at the battle of Peach Tree Creek, Colonel Harrison, in the crisis of the fight and without awaiting orders, seized an important position and successfully resisted, at great loss the terrific assaults of a large detachment of Hood's army. For this brilliant achievement, upon the recommendation of Major General Joe Hooker, he was brevetted brigadier general by President Lincoln.

In the fall of 1864 and while at the front, Col. Harrison was re-elected reporter of the supreme court of Indiana which office he had lost when he accepted his commission in the army. This office he now held four years when he retired and resumed the practice of his profession. In 1876, General Harrison was nominated for governor of Indiana and was defeated. In 1880 he was chairman of the Indiana delegation to the Republican national convention and cast 34 votes for James G. Blaine in that historic contest. President Garfield offered him any position in his cabinet save that of secretary of state which was filled by Blaine. In 1881 Harrison was elected to the United States senate from Indiana, but in 1887 he was defeated for re-election, the Democrats controlling the Indiana legislature of that year. In 1888 he was elected president over Grover Cleveland, but was defeated by Cleveland in 1892.

Harrison's administration was most prosperous and successful. The only crisis during his incumbency was that resulting from the Chilean imbroglio, which was handled by the president in a most statesmanlike manner. Indeed the president's message as to that affair is one of the great state papers of this country.

General Harrison was a man of rugged character, great tenacity of purpose, a Christian of the old school.

BRYAN'S SCOOP.
New York, March 14.—Col. Bryan was asked what he thought of the statement of President Hadley, of Yale University, that unless the trusts were knocked out inside of twenty years there would be an emperor in Washington.

"As a newspaper man I am very proud of the fact that my little weekly paper had a great scoop on this," said Col. Bryan. "We announced that McKinley was an emperor a week ago, so we have scooped President Hadley by twenty-five years. Sentiment will not check the trusts. Laws are required. The sentiment of nine people out of ten is against horsetealing, but the tenth man will continue to steal horses unless there is a law to prevent him, and he will snap his fingers in the faces of the nine."

FATAL MISTAKE

Two Fast Freight Trains on the
I. C. Collide Friday Morning at Clay Switch, Ky.

POPULAR ENGINEER DICKE KILLED

The Operator at Mayfield, Let One Train Go
By—Three Killed and Several Badly Injured In the Wreck.

MUCH DAMAGE—ENGINEER DICKE A HERO

From Friday's Daily.

A terrible head-on collision occurred on the Illinois Central between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning at Clay Switch, Graves county, about 27 miles below Paducah, resulting in the death of Engineer Joe Dicke, of the city, Fireman Ed Hamlett, of Fulton, and Fireman Ary Newman, of Newbern, and the serious injury of Engineer Joe Bornschein, Engineer W. H. Haselhouser, of Oskosh, Wis., who was with Engineer Dicke learning the road and Brakeman Will Robinson, of Paducah, of 182.

The second section of No. 151, south bound, in charge of Conductor Parker, Engineer Bornschein, Fireman Newman, engine 604, with 15 cars, and the first section of No. 182, north bound in charge of Conductor Flack, Engineer Joe Dicke, Fireman Hamlett, engine 512, with 17 cars, were going at a high rate of speed. The operator at Mayfield had an order for 151 to wait there for 182.

It failed to deliver the order, and let the train get by.

THE FATAL CRASH.

About three miles below, at 1:50 a. m., the fatal crash came. There was an awful shock, and cars were instantly pulled in every direction.

The hissing steam, cries of the frantic trainmen and the general confusion that reigned in the awful darkness were too terrible to describe.

The collision took down the wires and there was no way to obtain anything definite until about 7 o'clock this morning.

The body of Engineer Dicke was found in the wreckage, as were those of his fireman.

Engineer Haselhouser, who was in Engineer Dicke's cab learning the road, miraculously escaped with an injured right arm and a shoulder.

Brakeman Will Robinson, colored, of the 182, was also badly hurt about the hip.

Neither conductor was injured.

PROMPT ASSISTANCE.

The wrecked train was sent out from Paducah at once, with Chief S. George Murrell and Dr. J. Q. Taylor in charge.

Upon reaching the scene everything possible was done for the sufferers, and the bodies of Engineer Dicke and his fireman and those who were injured were brought in at 8:10 o'clock on a special train consisting of an engine and two cabooses.

Due to the blockade, resulting from the almost total demolition of eleven cars, the "cannon ball" from Louisville went to Memphis over the N. C. and St. L. tracks, leaving Paducah at 4 o'clock in charge of Engineer Pat Grogan, with Engineer Barksdale, of the N. C. and St. L., as "pilot."

It was estimated that ten hours would be required to clear the track.

ENGINEER DICKE A HERO.

Engineer Dicke's last act was one of heroism. He and Engineer Haselhouser, the latter as stated above, riding with him to learn the road, saw the approaching train, and Engineer Dicke told his companion to jump first, standing behind him to follow.

Engineer Haselhouser jumped, and was saved, but it was too late for Engineer Dicke, who was swallowed up the next instant in the wreck of his own engine, and a coal car.

Will Robinson, the colored brakeman, was pinned down on top of Engineer Dicke, and says the latter lived two or three minutes, both being underneath the coal. He was rescued later.

Engineer Joe Bornschein was not seriously hurt, although the first reports were that he was dead. His arm is injured, his collar bone broken and there is a painful wound on his scalp and chin.

Engineer Dicke was not mangled, there being only one wound, it being on the left side of his chest.

Fireman Newman died on the way here, both legs being mangled.

Fireman Hamlett's remains were taken to Fulton, where he lived.

THE OPERATOR.

Operator Drummond, whose mistake caused the fatal wreck does not seem to know how he happened to let the train get by. He is a young man who has been at Mayfield for quite a while in charge of the night office.

The track was not cleared until after noon today and the train from Memphis was about three hours late.

This afternoon the injured at the Illinois Central hospital were reported resting easy.

The remains of Fireman Newman will be taken to Newbern for interment.

The death of Engineer Joe Dicke came as an awful shock to his hundreds of friends here, and was learned with equal regret all up and down the road, wherever he was known.

For years he had run on the road, had ever been faithful, sober and industrious, and had the respect of everybody who knew, and liked him for his many sterling qualities. He was unmarried and would have been 33 years old the 17th, next Sunday.

He leaves besides a mother, three sisters, Mesdames Harry and John Williamson and Miss Flora Dicke, and three brothers, Messrs. John, Will and Henry Dicke. He was one of the most popular members of Paducah lodge of Elks, and also of the Railway Brotherhood.

Engineer Dicke was scarcely ever in an accident, and had a liberal offer a few days since to go to the K. C. road, and was thinking seriously of accepting it when death overtook him. He went out on his run last Tuesday.

The remains were embalmed at Effinger's this morning preparatory to being taken to his home on West Broadway.

Engineer Dicke's funeral will take place Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Elks and he will be given a burial befitting a hero who sacrificed his one chance of escape from instant death that another's life might be saved.

Those who are acquainted with Engineer Dicke and know his goodness of heart and nobility of character know he would do the same thing again if he had lived to see an opportunity to thus helping a fellow man. More definite announcement of the services will appear later.

The hearse, preceded by a large delegation of Elks, escorted the remains to his home at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

From Saturday's Daily.

Passengers in from Mayfield at noon report that Operator Drummond, who about collapsed from the strain, which he has been subjected since the wreck.

His explanation is that he had the two train orders for Conductor Parker's train together and when the latter called for them handed him what he thought was the order for him to wait at Mayfield. The conductor asked "Is that all?" and "receiving an answer in the affirmative, said "Good night" and left.

Operator Drummond discovered his mistake almost immediately, and ran out to stop the vanishing train. He tried every possible way to flag it down, but it was out of reach. He then tried to stop it by telephone, but could get no answer. He notified the dispatcher at Memphis of the mistake, and was told to try again to stop the train by telephone. When he again went to the telephone he found it "open," or that the wires were all down, and knew then that there had been a wreck. In his behalf it is said he has always been quick and attentive to his duties, and that while the consequence of his error is awful to contemplate, he is only human, and is liable to mistakes like everybody else, and simply made a mistake as others may do at any time.

A peculiar chain of circumstances seemed to find Engineer Dicke to his fate. His run on 182 was taken over by Engineer Shoggo, from Memphis, but Engineer Dicke insisted on his own run, and at Fulton the dispatcher ordered the exchange which placed Engineer Dicke in charge of his own ill-fated train, and Engineer Shoggo was ordered to the engine Engineer Dicke had vacated. Then the presence of another engineer on the engine prevented Engineer Dicke from saving himself by jumping, he compelling his friend to jump first.

It is estimated that the damage to rolling stock and losses that will have to be sustained by the road, will aggregate $100,000. The locomotives will be brought in today. They were so tightly wedged together that two locomotives could not pull them apart.

From Monday's Daily.

The funeral of the late Engineer Joe Dicke took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the St. Frances De Sales church, and the large concourse that offered their last respects to the dead was the most eloquent tribute that could be paid this popular young man.

The Elks took charge of the remains at the house on West Broadway and escorted them to the church. After the divine service they led the cortege to Eleventh and Tennessee streets, at which place conveyances were in waiting to convey them to Mt. Carmel where the remains were laid to rest. The funeral was one of the largest ever witnessed in Paducah, and adequately attested the esteem in which Mr. Dicke was held. The floral offerings were very beautiful.

Mr. Ed Thomas, in Saturday's Fulton Leader paid Mr. Dicke the following touching tribute, which will find a responsive echo in the hearts of all who knew him.

"The gulf of difference fixed between a gentleman—a real man, brave, generous, polite, heroic—and the common herd is vast indeed; and when we observe an example of the former, it is helpful, encouraging, as

THE BAZAAR,

Politeness, gentlemanliness, generosity, intent and spirit, heroism, cost nothing, but are of countless, limitless value. They are pearls that make the common clay of life sparkle; they are the sunbeams that drive away the cloudy mists that frequently over us hover; they stimulate hope and courage when otherwise we would be discouraged and hopeless.

These reflections are occasioned by the brave heroism displayed by Engineer Joe Dicke under circumstances so trying when he met his death Friday morning. Sometimes upon the approach of death we learn to know men better and see in them some of the splendid virtues above mentioned which had not been so potent before. Mr. Dicke was well known here. He was known by the writer to be a splendid gentleman, a kind man, more willing to accommodate than to be accommodated, a gentle, kind, manly man. But it remained for him to demonstrate his courage, manliness and heroism in death more than he ever was able to do in life, and this is how he did it.

Engineer Haselhouser was riding in the cab with Mr. Dicke when they observed the approaching train with which they were certain to collide, and which meant death to those yet upon the engine. They both reached the opening from which they could jump and possibly save their lives at the same time. Both engines were advancing upon each other at a terrible speed and with terrible roar. The collision, crash and death would come in an instant. Both could not escape at the same time and no time was to be lost if either was to be saved. Both might jump, and it was certain that one could. With as much coolness and bravery as if the surroundings were the most ordinary, Mr. Dicke said to his comrade, "You jump first." He did so and lived. Dicke never had time to jump and was crushed to death in a moment.

"It requires the highest degree of courage to be such a splendid, self-sacrificing hero. There are many of them in the world, but not enough. May this example be treasured and reflected upon by all to whom it is known; and may such reflection thereon assist others to be as heroic and brave as was Joe Dicke, and as all must know he was in every circumstance and relation of life."

Proofs of photographs taken at the wreck were received in the city today.

Engineers J. J. Bornschein and Haselhouser and Brakeman Robinson, who were injured in the wreck last Friday, are slowly improving at the railroad hospital. Engineer Bornschein will probably be able to be taken home this afternoon.

"It's amusing how ignorant most people are about the railroad business," remarked a prominent official yesterday. "I notice one of the papers said as the operator at Mayfield was under age, the railroad would have to bear all the responsibility of the accident. Now the railroad has to bear the responsibility of accidents resulting from carelessness of any of its employees, whether they are 18 years old or 80."

"Another thing, I hear people blaming the operator who made a mistake recently and caused an accident. Show me the man who isn't liable to mistakes! People perhaps don't know that a railroad telegrapher has dozens of opportunities a day to make mistakes and perhaps ten times as many as people in other vocations, yet how few of them does he make! Dispatchers handle scores of trains with hundreds of lives and thousands of dollars worth of property, every day, and the operators are their indispensable assistants. Oftentimes there is as much importance attached to the delivery of a train order as the making of one, hence almost an equal performance. It is more remarkable than in any other calling. People forget the thousands of times railroad men do not make a mistake in the contemplation of one error. There will be mistakes in railroad just the same as in any other business as long as railroad men are mere humans."

Several of the railroad boys became somewhat alarmed at the wreck last Friday and talked of quitting, which gave rise to the rumor that 25 of them had resigned. It is said that Engineer Joe Bornschein will not return to railroading. He had been thinking of going into business for some time before his recent close call. Engineer Dicke, who had amassed quite a competency, had for the past two or three years been thinking of giving up railroading.
